

KATSAKOKO

A circular collage of hands from different cultures, with white outlines of continents overlaid on the palms. The hands are arranged in a circle, with the palms facing outwards. The outlines of the continents are drawn in white, showing North America, South America, Europe, Africa, and Asia. The hands are of various skin tones and are positioned in a way that suggests a global unity or a family trip around the world.

A several years family trip all around the world

IN A FEW WORDS

Why a trip all around the world ?

To share a once-in-a-lifetime experience with all the family

To draw away from the material ease of our society

To go back to the basics :

To eat, heat, protect ourself, live with sun

To meet, share, help

To discover, visit, learn

To build lasting memories

To be happy together

In a nutshell : LIFE

What do we want to bring to our children :

To discover other cultures

To learn foreign languages

Respect for others

Perseverance

An educational project

Becoming world citizens

Today's children are the builders of tomorrow's world.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL BREAK

During our Tour of Europe, we often asked ourselves :

Where do we draw the line between courage and folly ?

Given that we didn't manage to answer, we leave again :

- + Further
- + Longer
- + Much more numerous
- + Even more motivated
- + With a bigger & heavier truck
- + ...
- + ...

Trying to prepare as best as possible our World Tour in order to never become unconscious.
